PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Motivated and detail-oriented Computer Science student with a strong foundation in programming, data structures, web development, and database technologies. Interested in Artificial Intelligence, Machine Learning, RAG, LLMs, and NLP, with hands-on experience in developing practical software solutions. Eager to learn, collaborate, and contribute to a professional development environment.

PROJECTS

Project: AI Coding Assistant

An intelligent web application that helps users write, understand, debug, and improve code using Artificial Intelligence. The system allows users to enter programming questions or code and provides relevant code solutions, explanations, debugging guidance, and improvement suggestions. The application helps developers and students solve coding problems more efficiently and understand programming concepts.

Project Information:

Built as an AI-powered web application using React, Tailwind CSS, Node.js, Express.js, Python, AI/ML, NLP, and LLM APIs.

Key Contribution:

Developed a responsive user interface, integrated frontend and backend APIs, implemented the AI coding assistance workflow, and worked on processing user queries and code to generate meaningful solutions, explanations, debugging suggestions, and coding recommendations.
